Sunday Ends Daylight Savings Set Clock Back

Next Sunday, remember to set back the clock one hour. We officially go off daylight savings at 2 a.m. Sunday but it is perfectly permissible to set the clock ahead before going to bed Saturday, if you are one of those that get to bed before 1 a.m. There is another choice. When Daylight Savings started many missed Church because they forgot to turn the clock back. You can make up for it, though, by forgetting to make the opposite adjustment and get there an hour early.

Help Make Christmas Happy

Lets give our troops overseas, and especially in Vietnam, a big Christmas this year. Its hard to be away from home at any time, but especially during the Christmas Holidays and the Belle Glade Herald would like to help service men overseas have an especially Merry Christmas.

If parents and friends will give us the address of Glades boys overseas, especially in Vietnam, we would like to publish that list so that the people of the Glades may help family and friends wish "our boys" a Merry Christmas.

Farmers To Get Weather Forecasts Beginning Nov. 1

The Federal-State Agricultural Weather Service will again provide state growers with forecasts and frost information in critical agricultural areas starting Nov. 1. The Service, sponsored by permanent Stations and the U.S. Weather Bureau, begins its winter planning for the freezing weather ahead. Regular bulletins will be issued through March 31.

The bulletins are transmittal-type lines covering the state's winter agricultural areas. The line extends from Gainesville to Daytona Beach, southward to Belle Glade, Lakeland, Fort Myers and Homestead.

Growers, cooperatives, Radio and TV Stations, and state agencies can have the Radio-writers installed to receive the forecasts and data, according to W. O. Johnson, meteorologist of the Weather Forecasting Service.

Information relayed on the line covers daily district weather forecasts, shipper's forecasts, severe storm bulletins, five-day outlooks, hourly radar reports on rain areas and other pertinent reports from Florida, California and Texas.

Johnson said the Agricultural Weather Service is particularly important to fruit and vegetable growers as well as others since subfreezing weather can ruin a crop or kill plants and trees. Besides, he said many growers have the means of protecting their crops, and the question is knowing when to put protection measures into operation.

Excessive rains can also destroy vegetable crops and advance warnings of these rains allow the grower to start his pumps to lower the water table and ditches. This way, water from the rains will not stand in the fields.

A Federal - State Market News service is being added for the first time this year. Johnson said, and will include market information on fruits and vegetables, shipping points, information, rail and truck shipments, terminal market information, canneries, utilization of Florida citrus, citrus auctions and other marketing facts.

The market news will be added to our agency's teletype circuit Monday through Friday and will make it possible for people to get the information one or two days earlier than by mail as in the past," Johnson said.

City Officials Attend Meet In Hollywood

Municipal officials gathered in Hollywood Sunday, Monday and Tuesday for a look at common problems and some solutions.

Thomas J. Heran, Publisher Completes First Year in Glades

The Belle Glade Herald staff would like to congratulate our Publisher, Thomas J. Heran, on his first anniversary with the paper.

In the year, Mr. Heran has been here he has been named Publisher of the paper and been involved with the community in many ways. Through his membership in such Civic organizations as the Rotary, Tri-County State Road 80 Committee and Jaycees, he has quickly become acquainted with the Glades area.

He first really got much in his shoe on a tour of the farming area with "Spence" Whitlock. He was thrilled, as most newcomers are, with the vastness of the area, the possibilities of the soil & the possibilities of the area.

But he also saw some of the problems of the area. Not only did he see them, but he set out to do something about them.

The death statistics of State Road 80 appealed him and he guided the paper through editorial campaigns about the needs of a four lane road to the Glades. He also joined with the Tri-County group in efforts to speed up progress on such a project.

His own newspaper, which he published by the way, was called by the paper has run pictures of some of these areas. He has talked to property owners and learned of their problems, and has talked to the tenants in an effort to understand the total picture.

But he didn't stop with the "new" residential area and he went to the homes where families of eight and ten lived in poverty. "Why are some of the living conditions so bad?" he asked. Since that time the paper has run pictures of some of these areas. He has talked to property owners and learned of their problems, and has talked to the tenants in an effort to understand the total picture.

With becoming involved as his own, Mr. Heran this week, has written his fifth "Off the Deep End" column. Already he has covered subjects ranging from the absurdity of governmental red tape, to the war in Vietnam, to education. Sometimes serious, sometimes satirical, but always food for thought, we hope you will go "Off the Deep End" with Tom Heran.

Happy Anniversary, Tom.

Elton Alford Trial To Go To Jury Soon

Jettison is the manager for the new West Palm Beach Auditorium. He moved to this position from a newspaper career and most recently the position of assistant manager of the municipal auditorium complex in Mobile, Alabama.

Alford killed Stanley while firing thirteen shots from his rifle ending the property feud between the two Chosen neighbors.

Alford owned land to which he felt he had legal access. Stanley fought his claim in litigation with a fence at the end of Palm Street near his home. Alford attorney Charles Nugent, told the 12 man jury Monday that Alford killed Stanley in self defense and in defense of his sons. It was unfortunate but justifiable homicide, he said.

Alford's testimony showed, cut down the offending fence down on May 6 and awaited Stanley's return home with his two sons Delton, Dennis, and Mrs. Dennis Alford, who took a machine gun with her.

According to testimony, Stanley returned home and shot at Delton Alford who was sitting in a station wagon across from the Stanley home, wounding him in the hip, and was killed in Alford's fire.

Guns from the melee entered in evidence in the case included a German Mauser rifle, two M-1 carbines, a 38-caliber revolver, a Colt .45 and a 357 caliber derringer.

Mrs. Alford testified she took home a pistol and the movie camera from the scene. The case is expected to go to the jury this week.

Two Men Win Council Seats In Pahokee

A. J. GAMOT

FRANK ROSENBERG

Frank Rosenberg and R. W. Sanders were sworn to their post on the Pahokee City Council and Councilman Don Blankenship, resigned Tuesday.

The two new councilmen were sworn in less than an hour after votes were tabulated in Tuesday's special election and in time to participate in the Council meeting.

Blankenship resigned at the end of the meeting saying that he had served because he felt it was his Civic duty after the resignation of three councilmen in Pahokee. The resignations for the five man group left Blankenship without a quorum. Blankenship, appointed at that time, said he would resign after the special election. He filled the seat of Curtis Miners.

Miners, left his post in sympathy with Councilman Lee Carroll Parker and R. W. Sanders who were faced with a recall election arising from a dispute over utility rates for the 2-2-67. Housing Authority Board before action was taken on the recall election. Sanders had defended the new utility election. Tuesday Sanders defeated Mrs. Doris F. Sasser.

Inspectors Mrs. Carrie Unwin, Mrs. Edna L. Stevens, Mrs. Mamie Mack and Mrs. Adeline Wooten and Clerk Mrs. Ruby Kamp officiated at Tuesday's election.

In the Commission meeting following the elections only routine business was taken up with Tucker asking for a meeting with the Housing Authority Board before action was taken on the controversial water and sewer rates.

In other business the city pledged $300 for paying transporting 73 twirlers representing Pahokee to the Junior Orange Bowl Parade in Miami. The Council also approved the purchase of two new police cars instead of the one planned for in the budget. The second car is needed. Chief Brown explained, because one car was wrecked with over $80 arm.

AREA FISHING REPORT

High winds have hindered fishing for about a week. Mildred Challenor at J-Mark reports a visitor caught the limit of bass on Tuesday.

D. A. Davis brought in a nice string of haw sunfish. Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Neese caught seven haw sunfish.

There were several strings of specks brought in over the weekend.

The Bass fishing is improving in our area. Most artificial bait fishermen are recommending both Black Worms, and Top Water Plugs. Live Shiners have been very good for Bass also.

Specks have been hitting Little Crappie Killers, No Alibi Jigs, and live minnows.

The following catches were reported over the weekend:

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Nuss, West Palm Beach, Fla., took 10 Bass on Saturday using live shiners.

Jimmie Taylor, Belle Glade had 6 bass on Sunday using artificial bait.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Way of Belle Glade brought in 8 bass on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ives and Parry of West Palm Beach had a very nice catch of specks on Saturday and again on Sunday.

The Quaker Oats Company Fishing Contest ended Sunday with Ronnie Lynn winning for the biggest Bass at 5 pounds, 12 ounces.

Marv Elliott won the prize for the biggest pan fish; a crappie weighing 15 oz., and Lynn had the largest string of pan fish.

NO GOD, NO DEVIL

"If you don't be good Bob I'm going to get that cop to lock up you," a mother tells a child.

Mom and the children carefully watch the back window to make sure no cop can clock Dad doing 10 miles over the speed limit.

But Bob is lost. Call the police and, oh happy ending, that nice policeman will bring Bob home.

The tearing of metal, screams, blood. The cop didn't catch Dad, but something else did. Then the policeman comes with help.

What type of man is it that sits behind the wheel of a patrol car? What is a policeman?

7 MILLS WITH REPORT CARD?

The seven mill proposal has lost at least two votes for seven mills through a bit of what the parents considered, indiscretion.

The children in these families brought home report cards with mill proposal attached to them. These parents called the Herald and perhaps their grip is legitimate. If you can staple poor 7 mill report card on report cards for children to bring home, can you refuse anti 7 mill material? What about campaign literature in the next election?

The FEA in a confidential letter to teachers in early October, wisely advised members not to introduce the "education crisis" into the school room for fear of such repercussions.

Perhaps the "friends of education" who paid for this advertising literature with the report cards, should have taken a hint from the FEA.

Another method for publicizing the issue is found at the football games when the announcer, usually at half time, pauses to re-mind you to vote for seven mills. No opposition to this has been heard but one wonders, would the opposition be granted equal cur-tsey?

The Herald is still firmly behind the seven mill proposal, but we reserve the right to doubt the validity of such methods of the ad-vo-cation.

SENSING THE NEWS

The Atomic Realities

Reports from Geneva that the United States and the Soviet Union are near agreement on a draft treaty for banning the spread of atomic weapons are more likely to confuse and mislead the American people than mark a solid gain for the cause of peace and freedom.

The draft treaty reportedly would bar the five nuclear powers from transferring nuclear weapons to nations that do not have them. It also would prevent the nuclear powers from assisting other nations in the production of nuclear weapons.

It is impossible to see what the U. S. would gain from such an agreement, though it is obvious that the U. S. would lose an important means of freedom. One of the loopholes in the NATO defenses in Europe is that the West Germans, who provide the bulk of the ground forces under the alliance, are without nuclear weapons for self-defense. They face nuclear-armed Russian troops in Central Europe. The draft treaty would keep the Germans in a secondary position forever, which has been a longtime goal of the Soviet Union.

The draft treaty is all the more futile because of the announcement by the French that they will not pay any attention to it.

The real trouble with the treaty is that it diverts attention from the truly serious situation involving atomic defenses for the United States. The United States, by agreeing to end atmospheric testing of nuclear weapons, is behind the clear weapons in the hands of the Russians in testing large-scale weapons considerably more experience in testing super-weapons, which apparently have been designed to knock out American missile installations. The Russians also, while agreeing to the peaceful use of space, have developed an orbital bomb known as SCRAP — a weapon for which the U. S. has no opposite number. Indeed, one of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's first moves in the Pentagon was to scrap the military's plans for space weapons.

The draft treaty also diverts attention from the problem of the Red Chinese atomic capability and from the consequent need for an anti-ballistic missile system. Mr. McNamara is fiddling on this question, asking for more and "studies" while the Soviets deploy such a defense system around their key cities.

It is known that the Soviet Union has maintained its rapid production of nuclear materials, while the Johnson administration has curtailed this production. At the same time, the overall destructive force of atomic weapons in the Soviet arsenal is growing, while the U. S. nuclear force is remaining constant. This summer, the last of 41 missile-armed Polaris submarines was commissioned, and the administration has no plans for additional expansion of this undersea fleet.

In summary, the Soviet's atomic weapons program is pushing forward stronger all the time, while Mr. McNamara refuses to push for technological innovation in the defense field. In time, this failure will leave the American people dangerously exposed to the threat of Soviet atomic aggression.

Liberals insist on saying that the cold war is ended, but that's a cruel joke on the 500,000 Americans fighting in Vietnam. That war is continuing because of the massive Soviet sea fleet. The Haploph and because of Russian air defense missiles and anti-aircraft artillery made available to North Vietnam. If that isn't evidence of cold war — or hot war — it is hard to see what the Great Society dreamers want as evidence.

It would be comforting if the Johnson administration tried to regain American atomic supremacy in the military field, instead of indulging in wishful thinking about the Soviet's becoming peace-lovers who will sign treaties ending all threat of aggression. But such realism isn't characteristic of Washington these days.

THE DEEP END

By TOM HERAN

Make love not war . . .

Sounds provocative doesn't it and perhaps there is more logic to the concept than we care to believe. For years we have heard the statement Love Thy Neighbor and have tended as a society to ignore it on one pretext or another.

This generation, the one that is fighting and dying daily in hills and jungles of Vietnam, these are part of the same group that cannot phrase make love not war. Is it free Love they advocate? Certainly not, it is that they would much rather be doves than hawks.

What then is wrong with this idea that has actually been with us through our history. Perhaps it is the methods used to promote it. Burning your draft card or marching on the Pentagon is to say the least a poor method of self expression, for our society has but one recourse for such action, armed enforcement and jail.

Is patriotism an issue? To answer this question we must first realize, that being patriotic does not justify fighting a war, unless there is adequate justification, and even then the argument is weak. We hear daily of arguments at the highest levels of government regarding our Vietnamese policies, our military and civilian efforts cannot agree on the conduct of the war.

We hear about the demoralizing effects of the peace marches and the draft card burnings on our troops, but isn't it even more demoralizing for them to hear that the generals don't agree on our policies. No one questions the bravery and courage of our troops, but certainly in a free society it is our duty to question the NO WIN attitude of the current administration.

The United States government must let its mind to win in Vietnam. We cannot afford to let our troops go untrained while our troops die and are maimed in ever-increasing numbers. Career military men with the most advanced training and experience in the field of finance, this is like asking your bookkeeper to stop a riot.

Hawks and Doves are the current designations given to those who are for or against the war, and both of these terms have valid facts to back up their opinions. If you choose to fight a war you should certainly fight to win, for had we fought past wars the way the one in the Vietnam would still control the hinterland.

Our duty as American citizens is not to condemn the peace marches to quickly, but to hope that our government will reach with a definite all out effort to bring this war to an end. The boy in the prime of life is entitled to love and arm or leg or even his life is entitled to the knowledge that his country was doing everything possible to end the blood shed and not prolonging it for political considerations.

Local Business

The consumer has little knowledge of the expense and effort involved in the introduction of a new product which he casually accepts as a mark of progress.

Executive of Pilot Products Industries, Inc., recently described the immense amount of planning and work that went into the promotion of a new cooking oil.

The company, which specializes in the introduction of new products, first had to determine if the public was fully satisfied with existing products — and why, or why not. This step called for a costly survey of representative households.

Next, proof had to be offered to the potential manufacturer that a product it had developed would be a needed item which was not being filled. This step consisted of actually bottling the new product and distributing it to a sample of households for testing.

After the oil had been used under various cooking conditions, reactions from the housewives were obtained through intensive interviewing. The interviewees provided information for possible modification of the product. They suggested approaches to advertising and inspired a name which was appealing and in keeping with the outstanding features of the product.

After the design of an appropriate General Telephone Co. of Florida serves a total of 621,000 telephones in a six-county area. Over 350,000 miles of new wire was placed in service during 1966.

The Florida State Racing Commission has authorized a series of thoroughbred racing for Hialeah Park in 1968. The dates of operation will be Jan. 17 through Mar. 2.

During the business meeting guild ladies conferred with Rev. Arthur Dasher, the vicar, and agreed to purchase a new organ for the Church.

Two Guild members, Mrs. J. E. Jones and Mrs. Myron E. Ludow are in training as new altar ladies and Fr. Dasher announced that Evening Prayer services are now being held each Sunday evening at 7:30 P. M.

Co-hosts Mrs. Jones assisted Mrs. Smith in serving the ladies coffee, sweet rolls and donuts following the adjournment of the meeting.

Is it possible that some of us have never known God? What is God to you? All things that are good? A benevolent, mysterious being? If a wrong deed or a wrong thought brought God to a stern lecture or admonition, would God be more real—and more loved by many of us?

Professor Says Bible Not True

By Lewis Lewellyn

Were the Old Testament prophets "taking trips" on some drug similar to LSD when they wrote their prophecies? That hypothesis is now proposed by a university professor who has been studying the Dead Sea scrolls. The professor, who has brought forth this fantastic theory, is Dr. James H. Charlesworth, of Manchester University in England.

"The church is going to be scourged as never before," declared Allegro. "Nothing so far revealed by the scrolls has the effect that this is going to have."

THEORY DENIED

But the hypothesis was promptly denied by Dr. James A. Sanders, of New York, a member of a 12-man international team studying the Dead Sea scrolls. Dr. Sanders said that nothing had been found in the scrolls to suggest Allegro's speculations.

Allergo is not the first to produce startling and sensational theories designed to discredit the Bible—nor will he be the last.

Tom Paine boasted that, in writing "The Age of Reason," he had destroyed the Bible and that the Book would not be able to survive his attacks.

"Was he right? Today the Bible is still the world's best-seller, but who reads 'The Age of Reason'?"

Paine himself, in later years, regretted writing the book. He is reported to have said, "I would give worlds, if I had known, if 'The Age of Reason' had never been written."

SEE FUTURE CLEARLY?

If Allegro knows of any drug which can enable one to see the future as clearly as the prophets saw it under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, he owes it to the world to reveal it.

Who would not like to be able to pierce the veil of the future and predict things to come? Such a drug would surely find a ready sale.

The Bible is filled with instances of prophecies which have been fulfilled already. Numerous prophecies yet to be fulfilled and the Christians who know these things watches world events with the greatest interest to see the development of things which were predicted long ago.

Even as Allegro rejects the inspiration of the Bible, he also denies the reality of life after death.

"Life after death is not only improbably speculation and highly unlikely," he said, "but it is also unhealthily speculation."

Not stopping there, he said, "The very possibility that Jesus ever lived is open to question."

CAN HE BE SERIOUS?

Since he has more convincing proof of the life of Jesus than of any other man of His time, this comment stamps Allegro as one whose scholarship and judgment are certainly of doubtful value.

It would be easier to believe that there was no Alexander the Great, no Julius Caesar, no Aristotle, than that there was no Jesus.

What kind of fools does he think the people were when they changed the method of recording time to key it to the birth of Christ—if there was no Christ?

Can he expect intelligent, educated people to take him seriously? Or has he been "taking a trip?"

Quiet Day

"Quiet Day," the climax of the Week of Prayer and Self-Denial, will be observed in the Chapel of Community Methodist on Friday, October 27, from 10:00 a.m. to Noon.

Everyone is invited to come to this spot of quiet in the midst of the stress and bustle of daily life and take this opportunity to listen, pray, and meditate.

CANZONERI CIRCLE

Mrs. Carlotta O'Brian was hostess to the Canzoneri Circle of the W.M.U. of the monthly meeting of the group held at 8 p.m. Eight members attended.

The program was presented on "Different Ways of Worship in Baptist Churches in Hong Kong and Germany."

The group voted to visit a shut-in to be visited by members and to distribute Home Life Magazines to be distributed to hospitals and beauty shops in the community.

Presbyterian W.O.C. Meets

An understanding of reconciliation and an involvement in the ministry of reconciliation are thought to be among the greatest needs of the adults of the Church, today.

A panel discussion, introducing this thought as the theme of the Women of the Church General Meetings for this year was held at the Everglades Presbyterian Church on October 17.

Participating in the discussion were Mrs. L. L. Price, Mrs. W. K. Whitlock, and Mrs. Tommy Parker, Program Chairman.

A brief business meeting was conducted by W.O.C. President, Mrs. C. L. Stuart, prior to the discussion. Mrs. Mae Laflin presented the opening devotion, basing it on the 13th Chapter of First Corinthians.

Hostesses for the evening meeting were members of Circle No. 3, who served refreshments during the social hour which followed.

The topic for the second General Meeting of the year, on November 21, will be "What the Division planned to help Christian women identify and examine some of the barriers that separate men and women from each other in our society. All women of the Everglades Presbyterian Church and their friends are invited to attend.

Week Of Prayer & Self Denial Observed by Woman's Society

"Feed My Sheep" was the title of the program presented at the W.M.S. General Meeting at Community Methodist Church on Tuesday morning.

This was the program for the "Week of Prayer and Self-Denial" currently being observed by the Woman's Society.

During this time each member is seeking to discover anew and more fully the meaning of the life and teachings of our Lord for herself, so that her service to the world may become more selfless. Mrs. George Farrell led the program, assisted by Mrs. H. L. Royals, Mrs. M. M. Sabiston, and Mrs. Maurice Jones.

Members are preparing to assist with the "Trick or Treat for UNICEF" program, and to attend the "Quiet Day" services on Friday, Oct. 27.

Five of the members attended the Spiritual Life Retreat in Leesburg last week, and reported a most challenging and thought-provoking two day session.

Members were reminded of the Bazaar to be held on November 2, and everyone is looking forward to shopping for Christmas gifts and stopping for a snack at "Mother Hubbard's Cupboard."

Annual Bazaar At Methodist Church Nov. 2

Thursday, November 2, is the day and Jamez Hall is the place to find the annual W. S. C. Bazaar.

It will feature Christmas items; aprons—plain and fancy; thoughtful, useful, and unusual gift items; and yummy cakes, pies, cookies, breads, and candies.

Have lunch or supper at the Bazaar—Chili is the specialty of the house! The Snack Shop will be open all day serving cake or pie with your coffee.

Everyone is invited to come and browse among the many shops in the Bazaar, then stop at "Mother Hubbard's Cupboard" for a snack or bowl of Chili.

The Bazaar will be open from 10:00 a. m. through 8:00 p. m.

Chairmen for the event are Mrs. Fred White and Mrs. Dale Bussey.

In the conduct of our daily lives in our attitudes toward one another, what do we show God? What attitude toward brotherly love?

"God Speaks" Is Theme Of Alliance S. S.

The Rev. John W. Shaw of The Alliance Church, 425 SE Canal N. Belle Glade extends a call to community friends to share in its church program this Sunday. Worship services are conducted at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Of interest this week will be the 9:45 a. m. Sunday School ministry. Classes for all ages are provided and there is room for you to join in the study of the Bible. The current theme is "God Speaks." For times like these God speaks to judge. Life does have some puzzling problems. Why is it that the wrong people seem to "make it?" They get to the top in apparent success! Whatever our standard of success may be—the time will come when God's standard will be the basis of fair judgment God speaks today, through His Word, to judge.

Come to Sunday School and learn why we don't fear such judgment—in spite of our obvious shortcomings.

The Belle Glade Golden Rams dropped their second game of the season here Friday night, as they battled the Palm Beach Wildcats to a score of 21 to 13.

Slightly more than two minutes later Paul Hodges returned a fifty yard punt for the Wildcats second score. The extra point was good and at the half the Wildcats led the Rams 14-0.

Belle Glade came back in the third quarter scoring twice. Their first score came as a result of a blocked punt. Linebacker Gary Remondio scooped the ball, which was deflected by linebacker, Julio Perez, and carried it in for the score. Rodriguez's attempt for the point after was good, leaving the score 14-7.

The Rams final score came as halfback Terry Means found Rodriguez's kick was blocked. Rodriguez's attempt for the extra point was good, and the game ended with a score of 14-13.

AN EDITORIAL School Spirit

There are many traits that a student should possess and be able to exhibit among other students.

They should be interested in the appearance of their school, respect faculty members and administrators, get the most out of classes, work together, have the will and desire to work with everyone and benefit from their actions, and make achievements in fields that interest them and in organization and sports activities. To day we shall concern ourselves with school spirit which is very important in any school and student.

We are looking forward to a series of events such as the bonfire, the homecoming parade and most important of all the homecoming game. But without one vital necessity, there is no need for these events, and that is school spirit. School spirit comes from everyone who is involved with the operation of our school, however the most important asset of school spirit should and must come from the student body.

It is felt that we should as a school put our best foot forward and make our team real-ize and become confident that we do believe we have "Mighty Bobcats" and that they can win any game with their strategic skills, endurance and most of all "their school" backing them up.

Friday Night Homecoming

Tomorrow night, October 27, 1967 on the Lake Shore Athletic Field, the Mighty Bobcats will play their Homecoming Game against the Fighting Greyhounds of Lincoln Park Academy of Fort Pierce. The Bobcats defeated the Greyhounds on their Homecoming last season, and the Bobcats are seeking their second victory over the Hounds.

Coronation Held To Crown Queen

Beauties on Parade became a living reality as the Lake Shore Junior - Senior High School family officially began its Annual Homecoming Activities with the Coronation for the crowning of Helen Ray as Miss Lake Shore Junior-Senior High.

The coronation was held at the school gymnasium Monday. There were campus royalty represented from all organizations, classes and departments. The queens wore ball room length gowns of white, pastel or organization colors with matching accessories.

Helen Ray appeared wearing her white ball room length gown and matching white accessories. She was crowned by the President of the Student Council, Curtis Pierce.

The band, under the direction of Mr. Willie Pyfrom, played "More" and "The Show of Your Smile" for the queen.

Miss A. V. Mells, the director of Chorus, had her special male ensemble to sing "The Sweetheart of Lake Shore High" which she arranged for the event.

This year's Miss Homecoming is the lovely Elvora Putnam.

Will Electric Irrigation Boost Your Money-Crop?

You bet it will!

A modern electrically-operated pump and sprinkler system will increase productivity and conserve water. You can sprinkle just the amount you need... where and when water is needed. Night operation can minimize evaporation loss.

Electric motors give dependable performance and peace of mind. Can be controlled by time-clock or float-switches to make irrigation automatic. And now the average price paid per kilowatt-hour is one-third less than it was just 10 years ago.
